The Cat Care Society Newsletter: Enriching the lives of people and cats.

Reflections

BY LEANNE EMM, CCS INTERIM DIRECTOR

My eyes light up as I walk into the shelter – I know I will be greeted by a kitty saying hello, or the friendly face of a volunteer named Paula, or maybe Liz, our non-stop shelter technician. If not one of these, then someone else that also loves cats!

During the time that I have been here at Cat Care Society, I have gained a new and extraordinary appreciation for the people that dedicate countless hours of work to ensure the welfare of the cats comes first. This care is evident by the wonderful cats that find forever homes. My heart overflows when I hear about one of our cats that has been adopted – maybe her home has been the shelter for multiple years, and then one day, someone comes in, and cannot imagine living without this beautiful cat.

I've seen how hard the cleaning staff works – showing up at 5:00 am to make sure the shelter is clean, and kitty duties are done, before we open the doors. I've seen how hard the volunteers work to help with caring for the cats, sitting with them to create a bond, or help with whatever is needed. I've seen how hard our shelter people work to ensure that our cats receive the medical attention they need, or ensure the home they go to is a good fit. I've seen small kittens brought to us in a bucket, almost frozen to death, and how they are bottle fed, raised and cared for until they are ready to adopt. These are only a FEW of the things I have seen, and I never imagined that I would have this type of experience. I am so grateful for a deeper understanding of how Cat Care Society benefits cats and humans alike.

This truly would not be possible without the support of our volunteers, staff, community members and donors. I have been truly blessed to act as the interim executive director, and I thank everyone (including the kitties) for the patience, and kindness that I have been offered. I wish the organization the best of luck in the future and although I managed to leave every cat here and not take them home, I will be back another day to see my friends. 🐾

CCS Appoints Permanent Executive Director

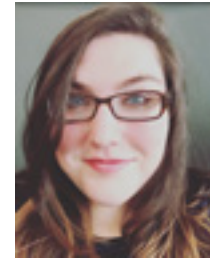

The Cat Care Society takes great pleasure in announcing that a permanent Executive Director has just been hired: Jan Kelley, a Littleton resident with a longtime commitment to the animal rescue and welfare movement. She begins work at the helm of CCS in the early summer of 2018.

Kelley has an extensive background in all aspects of nonprofit leadership, including operations and project management, marketing and development, and business/financial management. She served for several years as Senior Development Officer for The American Humane Association; her other animal welfare-related experience includes work for The Horse Rescue and Freedom Service Dogs. She has most recently been serving a wide variety of nonprofit clients in event management, strategic marketing and business development.

Kelley is a graduate of Metropolitan State University of Denver; her credentials include FEMA First Responder Certification for Humans and Animals. We welcome Jan to the Cat Care Society and we encourage our visitors, donors and volunteers to get to know her over the coming months. 🐾

News from the Shelter

We are excited to introduce Cat Miller as our new Social Media Coordinator.

Originally from Iowa, Cat moved to Lakewood with her family in 2001. In 2014 she graduated from Rocky Mountain College of Art and Design with a Bachelors in Fine Arts, Photography & Videography.

She has served as a volunteer at a Colorado non-profit and worked as a professional photographer for a number of international conferences and non-profit organizations. Cat seeks to capture the beauty of human, animal, and nature subjects in all of her works. Her work has been published in international newsletters, websites, and a five-course textbook that is now being translated into multiple languages.

She has done web design, has social media accounts on Twitter, Instagram, Snapchat and Facebook, has her own YouTube channel, helps manage several websites including her own, and has helped design international newsletters and logos. She is passionate about the use of social media to convey the message of CCS' vision and mission to reach a broad audience.

Cat has worked as one of our Shelter Assistants since April 2016, always offering a smile to our customers, assisting with incoming phone calls, helping our cats find their forever homes as well as assisting our vet techs and bottle feeding orphaned kittens. She loves animals; they happen to be one of her favorite photography subjects, and she has two rescue kitties named Boo & Belle who are CCS Alumni. She has continuously provided

Volunteer Spotlight

Paula Cifka – 2018

BY AMY MARTIN, VOLUNTEER COORDINATOR

If you have ever visited the Cat Care Shelter and noticed the festive decorations for the current season or holiday, then you are seeing the handiwork of Paula Cifka, our Volunteer Spotlight for this quarter. Even before it is too early to plant real flowers, she puts pretty artificial ones in the flower boxes just to “liven” up the place.

Paula does more than decorating. She is one who will greet you at the front door when we have one of our many public events at the shelter, and is valuable member of our Santa Paws Festival planning committee.

She enjoys welcoming people to the shelter and says she wants to show people that this a home for cats, and not a cage. She regularly engages with people who are visiting the shelter and since she is so familiar with the cats here, she is able to describe their personalities to them.

But her favorite time at the shelter is spending time with the cats. She is very concerned about our more senior cats and wishes more people would consider them as adoptions.

Employed at the Federal Government in the EPA Department for 40 years, Paula started volunteering at Cat Care officially a year after she retired. She had lots of prior involvement with the shelter, adopting a cat in 1988 and attending all the plant sales and other events that took place in the '90s.

In 2012 Paula started visiting the cat shelter and spend time socializing with the cats. There she met and became great friends with our beloved volunteer, the late Larry Hoyle, who convinced her to sign up for real as a feed n' scoop volunteer in 2015. Larry taught Paula the tricks of the trade. Paula still uses his formula for mixing up the canned food (or secret sauce as she likes to call it) to feed the cats. She takes great care when she feeds, spending time with the cats who need attention to eat and chopping up the food for the picky eaters.

Paula currently has 5 cats of her own, one of which she just adopted from Cat Care a just a few months ago. She has a fondness for long haired black cats and when Benny was surrendered after 10 years in a previous home, Paula fell in love. At the urging of her volunteer friends she adopted Benny and he immediately assimilated with her other cats, especially her other long haired black boy, Blackie. She has to put a special collar on Benny just to tell them apart!

Paula is a thrift store treasure hunter and finds many items that she then donates to the shelter. Paula is our treasure at the shelter. Her calm, friendly and reassuring nature and willingness to help with anything makes her truly a valuable volunteer. We could not without our wonderful Paula!

her photography and design skills for our shelter throughout her time here and we look forward to her expanding and enhancing our social media presence.

We are happy to introduce our new Volunteer Coordinator, Amy Martin.

Amy has been a very active volunteer since 2015, working at the shelter front desk, doing the weekly feed and scoop, as well as participating in the majority of fundraising events and projects. This includes being an integral part of the Santa Paws Festival and Festivals of Felines, Kitten Foster Shower and many others.

When Jane Dorsey decided to focus on other important projects, Amy was coaxed out of retirement to take over the majority of the volunteer coordinator role. She calls it a "work in progress" as she learns the job with Jane's help. She loves interacting with all the wonderful volunteers and staff we have at Cat Care and hopes to encourage more new volunteers to join as well. Amy wants every volunteer to know she is available to help them get the most out of their volunteer experience.

Amy has three cats, whom she absolutely adores. She also has 2 freshwater aquariums. Amy is an avid quilter and loves to knit. She has contributed some of these crafts to the fundraisers. She likes to garden in the summer and watch her beloved Broncos football in the fall!

Jane McFadden Dorsey is our new Manager of Events and Artists.

After 25 years of managing Cat Care Society's volunteer program, Jane has handed the reins to the very competent Amy Martin. Jane is still assisting with the program and sharing office space with Amy, but has shifted her focus to fundraising efforts.

CCS's signature fundraiser Tails of the Painted Cats commands a good deal of her time, and she is also coordinating art shows in the Cat House gallery at the clinic. A new show, "Felines & More", featuring 7 new artists and their favorite critters will run through July.

Jane has enjoyed working with the volunteer staff, and now with the many artists who have contributed their time and talent to helping the cats. 🐾

Where Are They Now? – Tales of Our CCS Alumni Cats

As this issue's "Where Are They Now?" story illustrates, there is almost nothing the Cat Care Society staff and volunteers won't do, in reaching out to cats in distress and trying to improve their lives. Their success stories which we're so proud to report here are made possible by the generous support of CCS donors—people like you, who love cats. Thanks to you, we've helped countless stray, neglected and mistreated cats—giving them a second chance at a life of quality in a loving home. Here's a new happy story, which actually began in the spring of 2016.

On their way to a fundraising event, three CCS employees noticed three cats on the side of a very busy road. The cats acted hungry, but they ran when they were approached. So the staff team went back to the shelter, returning with three humane traps; they set them with tuna, covered them with blankets and waited. Before long the cats were lured inside the traps.

We saved three cats from dire conditions that night. At least now they were safe indoors and could be seen by a CCS vet. Thinking quickly, the team assigned names to the cats based on the Littleton-area location where the rescues took place: Santa Fe, Union and Belleview.

Sadly, Belleview's infections and parasite infestation were so severe that we couldn't save him. We took some comfort in knowing that the beautiful brown tabby hadn't died in pain on the side of the road.

Union, another brown tabby, was truly feral; he wanted nothing to do with us. He crouched in the back of a kennel, never taking his eyes off the humans attending to him. Santa Fe was also hiding, scared as he was in his new confinement. "Who are all these people and what will they do to me?" he seemed to be asking.

Both Santa Fe and Union were neutered, vaccinated, dewormed and microchipped. Now, how would we integrate them into our shelter population? We placed them both in the Shy Cat Room with an attached "catio" – one of the outside patios accessible from several of our cat rooms – so they had safe outdoor access. We put CAUTION stickers on the door photos and bandannas on their collars.

Union just couldn't adjust; so he was moved back to our receiving area. Then, working through our support network, we found him a barn home. (He ended up "relocating" himself to a neighboring barn, where he still lives.)

Meanwhile the staff allowed Santa Fe to transition out of the Shy Room, into the main hall with the general population—a risky move with a semi-feral stray cat. We watched closely for biting tendencies, and had anxious moments as Santa Fe darted and raced around. We had hidey beds and a large stress cage placed strategically around the hall.

Like most strays, homeless and feral cats, Santa Fe proved to be compatible with most of our other cats (it's people and confinement that they don't trust). He lived in our hall for two years, mellowing toward some CCS volunteers—who were able to pet and brush him!—and becoming fond of one special cat, a shy female named Peyton. He would sleep in front of her, as her protector. She was much more active than he was; while she played he was always napping nearby. He also had brief playtimes with Rollo, but Rollo was too rough for Santa Fe.

People would always say, "He's not available for adoption, right?" or, "No one will want him, he's too shy." He had a squinty eye and they would ask, "What's wrong with that cat?" To which we would reply, "Nothing!" Our staff doesn't give up on these cats. We knew that someone would fall in love with Santa Fe, and would give him all the time and space he needed to come further out of his shell.

And a few weeks ago, that's just what happened. A cat lover named Leslie had adopted two brothers, Turner and Flop, from us in 2016. We all remembered them. Now Turner had died, and Flop was lonely. Leslie thought Santa Fe would be the perfect companion for him.

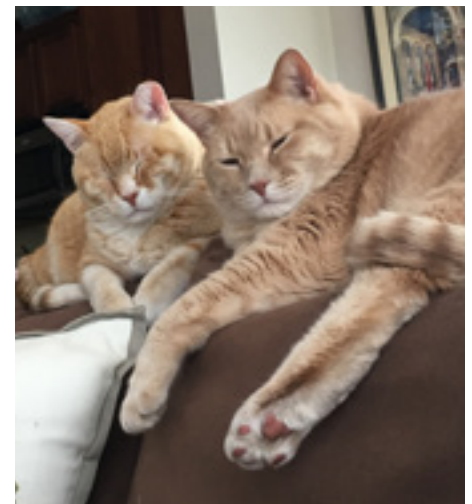

Santa Fe settled quickly into his new room at Leslie's house. He didn't hide for long, and soon found his new "brother" Flop. They have shadowed each other ever since.

Two weeks after the adoption, we followed up with Leslie and received this report:

"Santa Fe's name is now Murphy, and he responds to it already. He seems very happy in his new house and he absolutely LOVES Flop! Flop was a little unsure of him at first, but he did accept him in the house right away. They sleep curled up together most of the time, they wash each other, they play together (at 4:00 in the morning!), and I think Flop is happy to have a brother again.... When Turner passed away unexpectedly from kidney stones, Flop and I were both heartbroken.... I think Murphy and Flop needed each other. Murphy is still a little skittish with me, but he does let me pet him a bit and he [gets] bolder each day..."

This is a happy-ending, second-chance story on several levels: a loving home away from the streets for Santa Fe, and the perfect barn home for Union; a new companion for Flop; and after the heartbreak of loss, a new cat for Leslie to love. These outcomes are the reason Cat Care Society works so hard at its mission: serving cats and the people who love them.

Of course, carrying out this mission costs money. There are so many more cats like Santa Fe, in need of safe shelter, state-of-the-art veterinary care, and adoption into a loving home. Since CCS receives no government funding, all of our financial support must come from the community—generous donors like you. Can you help us now, with a gift of financial assistance to CCS?

There are several ways to give your gift. You can send a check (or authorize a credit-card charge) in the enclosed return envelope, drop off a check at the shelter, or donate online at catcaresociety.org. We can use either a one-time financial donation or an ongoing monthly gift – easy and convenient to set up.

Here are some of the ways your contribution will help...

- $1,000 pays for 14 spays and 17 neuter surgeries – preventing 31 cats from giving birth to multiple litters of kittens.
- $500 provides two cats with a year of medical care under our Perpet-U-Care program.
- $250 buys three weeks' worth of litter for the shelter.
- $100 covers two weeks' worth of antibiotics for five sick cats.
- $50 buys blankets, cat toys and food dishes to equip one of our cat rooms for six months.

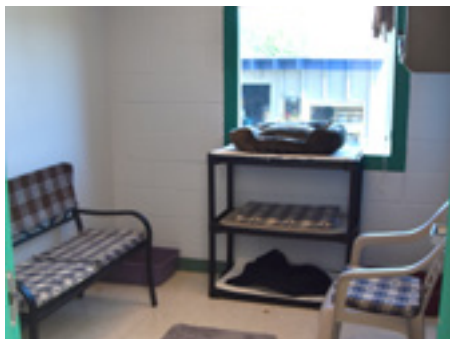

Please help us today with the most generous gift you can give for the care of the cats. Thank you so much for your past and future support! 🐾

Staff and Board of Directors,
Cat Care Society

Meet & Meow

We have transformed one of the smaller rooms in the shelter into our new "Meet & Meow" area. This room will now be a space where any potential adopter can spend some one-on-one time with the cat they are interested in adopting.

What was once a small room for a single cat, who has now moved into a larger area of the shelter, is now a lovely seating area where humans and cats can interact with each other and get to know one another. 🐾

King Soopers Has Donated More Than $53,000 to Cat Care Society!

It's true! Cat Care Society started the King Soopers Reloadable Gift Card Program in June 2011, CCS has received $53,414 from King Soopers thanks to supporters who use their King Soopers Gift Cards (purchased at CCS) to buy their groceries. As of this spring, we are averaging about $920 each month in revenue from the King Soopers Cat Care Society Reloadable Gift Card. The CCS Cats cannot thank you—and King Soopers—enough!

It's so easy to obtain and use this card...

- 1) Purchase the King Soopers Gift Card from Cat Care Society at our front desk. It costs $25 and has $25 of credit on the card.
- 2) Take the card to King Soopers. Either at the Customer Service Desk or at the checkstand, before you pay for your groceries, you can add any amount from $2.50 to $500 to your gift card.

- 3) Pay for your groceries using the CCS King Soopers Gift Card. King Soopers donates back to CCS 5% of the value of the groceries you buy each month. None of the donation comes from your pocket.
- 4) When you use up the money on the Gift Card, you just reload more. You may pay for reloading the card by cash, check, debit or credit card. (Note: Don't let your balance stay at zero for more than 30 days; you may need to buy a new card at CCS if your card remains inactive too long.)

- 5) The CCS KS Gift Card may be used at King Soopers or City Market Fueling Centers. It can also be used at most Kroger affiliated Stores throughout the U.S. These include: Kroger, City Market, Fred Meyer, Ralphs, Fry's and Fry's Marketplace, Dillon's, Smith's Food & Drug, QFC, Food 4 Less, Owen's, Foodsco, Hilander, Pay-Less, Cala-Bell, Baker's JayC, Fred Myer's Jewelers, Littman & Barclay Jewelers.

If you haven't picked up your CCS King Soopers Gift Card, please stop by the front desk at the CCS shelter this week to get one. They make wonderful gifts, especially for cat lovers! 🐾
